Protect Your Pack

Pack Leaders will have the opportunity to learn about a variety of topics including sexual assault, intimate partner violence, harassment, stalking, depression, bias issues and alcohol and other drugs. Once trained, Pack Leaders will provide interactive educational programs to their fellow students on these issues and help them understand how to intervene when they witness a problem. We are not looking for students to be experts on all topics, but to have an understanding of the concerns facing students and a desire to help others realize they can make a difference by stepping in when problems arise. We require a two-semester commitment and attendance at Pack Leader meetings. Once applications are received an interview will be scheduled. Please feel free to reach out with any questions!
